TRUMAN STILL BELIEVES SPY HEARINGS "RED HERRING"

HEAVY LOSSES SUFFERED BY NATIONALISTS

Government Sources Admit Communists Are Inflicting Big Toll On Encircled Groups

RED LOSSES ARE HIGH

Nanking, Dec. 9.—(P)—Government military sources admitted today that heavy casualties on three encircled army groups on Nanking's approach.

They said the 16th Army Group was believed to have been virtually wiped out. The 16th and the two other groups garrisoned Su-chow until last week, when they withdrew in an effort to relieve the trapped 12th Army Group in the Suhsien sector.

The military sources said the groups had reorganized and now are resuming attacks in an attempt to break through the Reds. They described the Communists as suffering heavy losses also.

Much depends upon whether the former Su-chow garrison can join the 12th at Suhsien—45 miles south of Su-chow—and both forces fall back to the new Hwai river defense line, 105 miles northwest of the Chinese capital.

The line is anchored to Pengpu, headquarters for the last defense barrier before Nanking.

Neutral military observers estimated the former Su-chow garrison has lost one third of its strength since abandoning the base to the Reds Dec. 1. The three groups have been reported to embody a combat strength of 110,000, although the garrison, including Red Echelon personnel, was placed at 250,000.

Neither side has reported whether any sizable numbers of troops were captured in the fall of Su-chow. However, pilots flying the last planes in Su-chow said government soldiers crowded the airfield in wild confusion shortly before the city was captured.

The estimate of government casualties seems to tally with a Communist broadcast last night. The Red radio said more than 30,000 troops were lost to the three army groups.

Qualified Nationalist sources continued to make no claims to support government information agency reports that the 12th Army Group had broken out of encirclement near Suhsien and joined Red troops from the Hwai river line.

These sources said the Red units are attempting to cross the Hwai some 40 miles northeast of Pengpu, where the river makes a wide northern bend. It was expected the Reds, if they can cross the stream, will try to cut the railroad south of Pengpu to prevent reinforcements from reaching the defense line.

Greatest Flight On Record By World's Largest Bomber

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 9.—(P)—The greatest bomber flight in history was announced today by the Air Force Command, that it had carried a B-36, new non-stop from Fort Worth to Honolulu and return, breaking its own record.

At 7:30 p. m. (CST) last night, 35 hours and more than 8,000 miles after takeoff time, the great silver ship touched down at this city's Carswell Air Field.

And it had carried "a useful bomb load" to the halfway mark, dropping the bombs in the ocean off Honolulu.

Brig. Gen. J. B. Montgomery of the Strategic Air Command, made the announcement here—after hours of official silence.

Crewed by 15 men, the ship flew from Fort Worth to Honolulu by way of San Diego, Calif., and returned via San Francisco.

It was a Pearl Harbor Day flight, that began about 8 a. m. (CST) Dec. 7.

Built to carry 10,000 pounds of bombs 10,000 miles, the super-bomber staggers the imagination of the public and the men who fly it. It's as big as three five-room houses and its 67-foot tail is as high as a four-story building. It has groaned into the air at its full gross weight of 273,000 pounds. No other plane ever toled such a load.

Its amazing wings stretch 230 feet—almost the length of a football field—and they flap lazily in flight. And the '36 is so long—163 feet—its crewmen use a little scooter on rails to zip from nose to tail.

Other planes stretch 230 feet—almost the length of a football field—and they flap lazily in flight. And the '36 is so long—163 feet—its crewmen use a little scooter on rails to zip from nose to tail.

Alias Santa Experiences A Scare Picking Up Elk Check

Alias Santa Claus, puffing heavily and looking badly scared, raced into the Times-Mirror office today, quickly bolted the door and drew the blinds.

"Hide quick, everybody," he yelled. "There's a big, horrible monster outside."

The office staff has become somewhat accustomed to the antics and misadventures of this general arctic visitor, but his actions this morning drew more than the usual amount of eyebrow raising.

"Whatever are you talking about, Alias Santa? You must be dreaming," the office staff said reassuringly. "There's no monster outside."

"Dreaming am I? I tell you I saw it with my own eyes—right in front of the Elks Club. My good friends up there called me and asked me to stop by and pick up a $25 check for my Christmas Cheer fund."

"I'm walking along the street minding my own business and right in front of the Elks, there was—the monster, I mean, looking down at me like it was going to gobble me up. Lucky thing I can run fast, or he would have caught me for sure."

The light began to dawn on the office staff, and soon everyone but Alias Santa was doubled up with laughter.

"The joke's on you, Alias Santa," they roared. "That's no monster. That's a giant size jack-in-the-box which the Junior Chamber of Commerce built for the Elks Club as part of the community's Christmas display. Why the kids love it."

"Christmas display!" Alias Santa said unbelieveingly. "They shouldn't go around scaring people like that."

When the be-whiskered gent settled down somewhat from his hair-raising experience, he mumbled something about going back up to the Elks Club for that check he started for the door, but got no farther than the big pile of letters awaiting him on the counter.

"Whoop, look at all that mail," he said excitedly as he started ripping open the envelopes.

"I see the Warren Postoffice clerks aren't going to be outdone by the letter carriers. You remember the mailmen sent me $10.50 yesterday. Well, here's a check for $10 from the postoffice clerks. Boy, that's wonderful."

And look at these other contributions: $7.50 from Earl D. Bartlett; $5.00 from Stanley D. Bartlett; $3.00 from Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Christensen; $3.00 from Mr. Anonymous; $5.00 from Mrs. Anonymous; and $1.00 from Uncle Anonymous. Thanks good neighbors from the youngsters and needy folks in the Warren district whose Christmas will be a whole lot brighter because of your generosity."

Joint Memorial Service On Saturday Afternoon For Two Brothers Killed In World War

A joint memorial service will be held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Lutz Funeral Home for two brothers, J. L. Clark and J. R. Clark, who lost their lives in the Anzio beachhead. Both were sons of Mrs. J. R. Clark, 306 East street.

The body of Pfc. Shepard will arrive by train tomorrow morning from the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot and friends may pay their respects at the funeral home at the usual calling hours starting at noon on Friday.

Jasper R. Shepard was born in Columbus on July 7, 1910. The family later moved to Platea and he attended Battles Memorial High School in Girard until the family came to Warren in 1925. He completed his high school work here and was graduated with the Class of 1927. He was later graduated from Hoff Business College and was employed as secretary to the manager at the Sherwood Refining Company at the time of his induction into the armed services.

He was very active in both Scouting and Red Cross activities. Was Scoutmaster of Troop 4, had attained Eagle Scout rank, with three Palms, and had earned his Scoutmaster's Key. He was one of the most active first aid instructors in the Red Cross Chapter here.

He organized and taught a great many classes during the early years, when the Office of Civilian Defense was in operation.

He was inducted at Erie on May 28, 1943, and went to New Cumberland on June 4. During basic training at Camp Haan, he received his sharpshooter's medal. Going overseas, he was sent to England and was stationed near Dover, by the British government. Pfc. Shepard received a bronze star.

As a member of Headquarters Battalion AA, he went through France and Belgium and was stationed at Maasticht, Holland, for three months before he went into Germany. His company crossed the Ober and the Rhine and he was killed in action near Gutersloh, Germany, on April 29, 1945.

His brother, Clark, was born in Warren county on January 12, 1915, was graduated from Warren High School in 1933 and was employed by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company in Erie until the time of his induction.

He was inducted at New Cumberland on February 8, 1942, and received his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. He then attended Officers Training and Orientation School at Fort Benning, Ga., and received his commission as second lieutenant. He participated in special maneuvers at Camp Polk, La., before being sent with a replacement group of second lieutenants to North Africa in 1943.

He took part in the landing at Sicily Beach with Company A, 191st Tank Battalion, and attained the rank of first lieutenant soon after arriving in Italy.

Participating in the landing at Anzio beachhead, his outfit was repulsed many times before Lt. Shepard led a group of volunteers in the initial break-through which constituted the beginning of the march to Rome. He was killed on the afternoon of the first day of the break-through, May 24, 1944.

While in Warren he was a member of the First Methodist church, belonging to Scout Troop 5, and was also active in Red Cross first aid work.

PRESIDENT'S REMARKS BRING AN ANGRY FLARE BACK FROM MEMBERS OF PROBING GROUP

Washington, Dec. 9.—(P)—President Truman again called the congressional spy hearings a red herring today and said the committee conducting them is a dead end.

That brought an angry flare back from members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities who in the past 10 days have turned up allegedly stolen secret State Department documents and say they are about to expose the people who stole them.

And only a short time after Mr. Truman's news conference congressional investigators announced they have found one of two men named documents to a Red spy ring 10 years ago.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said that in the light of evidence the committee has uncovered "the president's statement is a flagrant flouting of the national interests of the people."

And it is apparent he told reporters that the only way the facts are going to be uncovered is through the committee.

Nixon said the president, "by continuing to obstruct the committee, is helping to keep the facts about the stealing of America's top secrets by the Communists from the American people."

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) said that it was inconceivable to him that Mr. Truman would repeat the red herring remark.

"If he considers the investigation a red herring," Mundt said, "I challenge him to authorize us to publish the documents in toto in the press. The state department says they are so startling that to release them even now would imperil the national security. If this is a red herring, let's publish them."

Mr. Truman's remarks were to a news conference and were made in response to questions. He said that so far as the stolen documents are concerned, Attorney General Clark will see that the law is enforced.

In summary, Mr. Truman's expressed attitude toward the committee's activities was this: "If the committee members were in a bad mood about protecting the country, they would have turned what they have found over to Clark rather than making headlines with it."

He still thinks the hearings are a red herring and that public is a motive in the Republican-dominated committee's actions.

The red herring charge is one Mr. Truman first flung back during the campaign. He contended then that the purpose of the hearings was to divert attention from what he called the G.O.P.'s congress' failure to deal with the high cost of living and other problems.

The term "red herring" is any diversionary action. It comes from a long time belief among hunters that trail dogs can be lured from a trail by dragging a red herring across it.

Mr. Truman did not elaborate on his description of the committee as a dead end. When reporters tried to draw him out on that, he told them to see Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) who is expected to be speaker of the house in the new Democratic-controlled congress. The plain implication appeared to be that Mr. Truman does not believe the house will continue the committee's life.

Other developments surrounding the spy inquiry:

1. The committee has been told so far that the State Department has found 65 documents which could be released now without hurting national security on the public interest. These probably will be made public. The state department is continuing to check other papers located by the committee.

2. Mundt said the committee has located one of the two men named documents to a Red spy ring 10 years ago.

PHONY SOLICITOR

Corry residents were warned Wednesday to be wary of giving money to a solicitor who this morning sought funds by telephone on behalf of a Catholic magazine, which he claimed to represent. The city treasurer's office said no permit to conduct a solicitation campaign had been given and Corry priests further bolstered the belief the solicitation is a fraud by stating the magazine which the man claims to represent does not exist. While the soliciting was done by telephone, the man said the funds would be called for later. Up until early afternoon city police had been unable to locate him to determine the authenticity of the appeal. A partial description states he is short and heavy set, has a faint mustache and piercing black eyes. The Corry Chamber of Commerce office pointed out that a fraudulent solicitation campaign identical with this one was carried out here a year ago.

Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford in "The Loves of Carmen" At The Library Theatre Sunday Monday and Tuesday

Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford are co-starring in Columbia's "The Loves of Carmen," coming to the Library Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The film, with color by Technicolor, has a brilliant array of supporting players that includes Ron Randell, Victor Jory, Luther Adler, Arnold Moss, Joseph Bulow, Margaret Wyckoff, Bernard Nedell, John Baragrey and Philip Van Zandt.

Helen Deutsch's screenplay, taken from the story of "Carmen" by Prosper Merimee, has a locale of Seville and the rugged mountains of Spain about 1830. It concerns the stormy love of Carmen (Hayworth), the most celebrated temptress of all time, and the dashing young soldier, Don Jose (played by Ford). Charles Vidor's production of "The Loves of Carmen" is reported to abound with wild gypsy dancing by Miss Hayworth, stirring duels and knife fights, and the picturesque costumes and music of the gypsies. Vidor, who also directed, replaced the Bizet operatic score with original flamenco music.

Ann's Washington "Pie"
1 cup vegetable shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 tsp. salt
2 tps. Double Acting Rumford Baking Powder
1 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla
Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Beat in egg. Add Rumford Baking Powder (no alum) and other sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk and vanilla; beat thoroughly. Rumford gives you quicker, easier beating batter, and your cake stays firm longer. Pour into two greased 8-inch layer pans. Bake in moderately hot oven (375°F.) for 25 minutes. Cut cooled layers crosswise making four layers. Fill layers with raspberry jam; dust top of cake with powdered sugar.

WRECK BLOCKS ROAD
A truck load of steel was spewed over Route 6 early Wednesday morning, blocking traffic for three and one-half hours when a tractor-trailer jackknifed on the slippery highway near Pollock's Bridge. State Police of the Corry sub-station said the heavily loaded trailer was driven by Henry Benca of Dearborn, Mich. Benca was driving east on Route 6 about 2:45 a. m. and was traveling down the slight grade near the bridge when the unit started to skid on the snow-covered road. Losing control of the truck, Benca was unable to prevent the trailer from snapping about, causing the double unit to jackknife, spilling steel along the road. Investigating officers said total damage was in excess of $1,300 with the truck sustaining about $300. Having bent near the cab, the gas tanks punctured and one section of the trailer side torn off. The loss on the load was estimated at $1,000.

Inauguration Plans Give Nation's Capital The Jitters

American history. They probably will unless it rains or snows. They figure about 750,000 people will see the inauguration itself or the parade that follows. The cost probably will hit around $300,000.

Other millions will follow it on their radios or over television. It will be the first inauguration ever televised. And the whole place will swarm with newspaper reporters.

But since the show is about seven weeks away, most of the details still have to be filled in.

Around noon on January 20 Mr. Truman will be sworn in for his first full term in office by Chief Justice Vinson of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Then Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will take the oath as vice president. It's known at this point who'll administer the oath to him.

All this will take place on the east side of the capitol, where for months carpenters have been building about 14,000 wooden seats in the open air, facing the building.

The people who get those seats — free — will be diplomats, members of the Supreme Court, congressmen and senators, members of the President's cabinet and others, all by invitation.

After he takes the oath, the President will deliver his inaugural address. Then he and the vice president will scoot off to lunch.

So much for what happens at the capitol. All the arrangements there are in the hands of a special congressional committee. Congress this year voted money to take care of those expenses.

Then an inaugural committee — not connected with Congress — takes over. A parade will start at the capitol and wind down through Pennsylvania Avenue until it passes the White House a mile away.

This parade will last two or three hours and will be full of soldiers, sailors, marines, West Point and Annapolis cadets, Army bands, Navy bands, College bands, the governors of states, and floats representing the various states.

In front of the White House, in a block-long grandstand, President Truman will review the parade.

The business people of Washington are putting up the money to build stands along the line of march. Tickets seats in them cost from $2 to $10 or more.

(If you're thinking of coming here and want such a seat, send your application to the Inaugural Committee, Room 166, Tariff Building, 7th and E. Streets, northwest, Washington, D.C.)

There'll be a big inaugural ball on the night of January 20. This is by invitation.

On the night before inauguration, there'll be a big blow-out by radio, stage and movie stars in the same armory, with two stages, a number of bands, and symphony orchestras. You have to pay to get into that one.

MAY DOOM ELECTORAL COLLEGE

The Dixiecrat revolt may have been strictly a one-shot performance. But it is possible that it will bring America a bit closer to the day when they will lock the door of the Electoral College and throw the key away. It all depends on what the 40 Thurmond-Wright electors do.

Senator Ellender of Louisiana recently visited the White House, and afterwards said he had told the President that he was going to try to get those 40 electors to cast their ballots for Mr. Truman and Senator Barkley, rather than for the States' Rights slate.

They would be entirely within their rights if they did this. They are not directed by the Constitution to conform their choice to the popular vote.

But if the Thurmond-Wright electors vote for the regular, and victorious, Democratic candidates, they will do more than break the pledges that won them a majority in Alabama, South Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana, and placed two of their number on the list in Tennessee. They will effectively disfranchise considerably more than half a million persons who voted for them.

Such an action would emphasize a deficiency in our voting system that is theoretically present in every presidential election, even though it seldom makes any actual difference. For, in spite of political tradition and practice, the voters have no legal voice in the choice of the president.

They may express a preference, as the Dixiecrat supporters did. But the electors whom they voted for can vote as they choose.

This year's election offered other reasons, of course, for giving the voters a more direct and secure means of selecting a president. The contest barely missed winding up in the House of Representatives, which would have taken the choice out of the people's hands entirely.

As a result of all this, the new Congress will undoubtedly have a chance to start the machinery for changing the system. One proposal, by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Representative Gossett of Texas, has already been made public. It would not do away with electoral votes, but it would do away with the electors. And it would provide a state's electoral votes between the candidates in proportion to their popular vote.

This arrangement, or simply a direct popular vote, would naturally end any danger that Congress, and not the people, might have the right to choose a president. It would abolish the chance that voters might find their support being recorded for a candidate whom they had opposed.

The present electoral system was a compromise among the delegates to the Constitutional Convention. But the controversy that brought it about has only historical interest today. Its meaning is blurred and dated, but its inequities are no less potent for being meaningless.

We can see no reason why a proper reverence for the Constitution should blind Congress to this obvious flaw. The logical action will be for the legislators to draft an amendment which will make the letter conform to the spirit of our free and secret ballot, and then let the people vote on it.

Judging from testimony in the congressional probe of auto-sales practices, the dealers have been doing better with a horseless carriage than Jesse James did with a horse.

Ruhlman On Penn State Cage Squad

State College, Dec. 9.—Coach John Lawther's human skyscrapers—including six foot four Terry Ruhlman of Warren—may find themselves leaning on a couple of little fellows for help during the current basketball season at Penn State.

While four of the five starting positions still belong to the big fellows, the injured Milt Simon heads up a contingent of small fellows who are expected to make their presence felt in 1949.

Simon, a veteran of four years and the team's sparkplug in last year's campaign, has been on the shelf for a month with a severe shyness but he expects to swing into action after the holiday. The Erie ex-sailor is 5-foot-9, weighs 158 pounds.

Two newcomers, both smaller than Simon, are Joe Tocci, of Ridgewood, N. Y., and Ken Weiss, of Allentown. Tocci, who started against Pitt in the opener, is 5-7, weighs only 155, while Weiss is 5-8, weighs 150. Weiss is a sophomore, Tocci's a junior.

Among the big fellows are Matt Costello, 6-6, of Fredericktown, Bob McKown, 6-4, of Apollo; Willard Parkhill, 6-4, of Yeadon; Ruhlman, of Warren; Lee Schisler, 6-5, of Northampton; Carl Nordbloom, 6-2, of Pittsburgh; and Syl Bozinski, 6-3, of Nanticoke.

O'NEILL SIGNS AS COACH FOR INDIANS

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—(P)—The w. id champion Cleveland Indians today announced signing up Steve O'Neill as coach.

Word of the appointment came from Marshall Samuel, a member of the Cleveland organization.

O'Neill starred for Cleveland in his playing days and was a member of the Indian team which won the World Series in 1920.

Recently O'Neill was manager of the Detroit Tigers. At one time he managed the Cleveland club and also piloted the Buffalo International League team at a time when Lou Boudreau, present Cleveland manager, played on it.

GANNON COLLEGE TO FIELD GRID ELEVEN

Erie, Dec. 9.—(P)—Gannon College, fifteen-year-old Catholic Liberal Arts School, will field its first football squad next year.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph J. Wehrle, president of the college, said Lou Tullio, coach of the semi-pro Erie vets grid team last season, has signed a three-year contract to coach the team.

The Gannon Knights, as the team is to be called, will play an eight-game schedule, as yet undisclosed.

The world's longest aerial cable railway transports ores 60 miles from Sweden's huge Boliden mines near the Arctic Circle.

City League Games Slated

YMCA City Basketball teams will swing into action again this evening on the Y floor with Struthers Walls tangle with Warren Business School at 7:30 o'clock and the American Legion five battling the Rockets at 8:30 p. m.

The games are open to the public with the admission being a quarter for adults and 15 cents for students.

Owls By-passed For All-State 1st Team

Bradford Owls, who stormed through the 1948 grid season without defeat, drew only second and third string berths on the Associated Press's All-State Scholastic football selections, while the Warren Dragons, who won eight out of 10 tilts in a grueling campaign, didn't even rate so much as an honorable mention.

Bob Conway of Bradford was picked for end on the second string all-state squad, while Al Pingle of the Owls squad was named for the third team backfield.

Honorable mentions included Flowers of Erie Tech at end; Barney of Erie Academy at tackle; and Ted Marchbroda of Franklin and Mike Paoletto of Ridgway as backs.

Big Deals In Major Leagues Are Sizzling

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 9.—(P)—News-starved baseball fans are hereby warned to get ready for some real action. The way things have been shaping up, at least a couple of "name" trades are almost certain to be announced within a day or two.

Now that the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates have started the horsehide rolling with the Gustine-McCullough swap, the general feeling is the minor league convention will really start humming with big league deals.

The Chicago White Sox, busiest traders of the off-season thus far, make no bones about their hope of luring Third Baseman Bob Dillingham from the St. Louis Browns, First Baseman Eddie Robinson from Cleveland, and Pitcher Al Reynolds from the New York Yankees.

The New York Giants want Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer from Cincinnati. They have offered Second Baseman Billy Rigney. The deal is "hot" right now. Ironically, the Reds tried awfully hard to swap Vandy to the Giants for Rigney last year, but were turned down.

The National League champion Boston Braves have made overtures to Pittsburgh for Outfielders Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake, but have not gotten very far. Brooklyn is still hot after First Baseman Eddie Waitkus of the Cubs, but so are the Giants. The St. Louis Cardinals want a pitcher that Walker Cooper's knee operation is a success before giving up Pitchers Red Munger or Murry Dickson to the Giants for the big catcher.

Woman's Club At Sheffield Enjoys Party

Sheffield, Dec. 7.—Mrs. J. M. O'Connor, 201 Church street, was hostess to the Woman's Club on Monday evening, for their annual Christmas party. Holiday decorations were used in and outside the home, giving a festive air to the occasion. Mrs. A. S. Brown and Mrs. Frank Handeys arranged the following program: Records of Christmas Carols were played; vocal duet, "O Holy Night," Marjorie Hoover and Barbara Lyle, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Davidson; Reading, Johnny Speaks His Piece, Carol Henry; Vocal duet, "Silent Night," Marjorie Hoover and Barbara Lyle. Bible Scripture of the Christmas Story and a reading, "Away in a Manger," Mrs. E. D. Hulse. Gifts were exchanged followed by a social hour, with refreshments served by Mrs. E. Robison, Miss Eva Brown, Mrs. John Cochran, Mrs. Evelyn P. Gallor, and the hostess.

McCahey Bible Class
The December meeting of the Harriet McCahey Class will meet at the parsonage, Friday, Dec. 10. Devotionals will be conducted by Mrs. D. H. McKay and entertainment by Mrs. O. M. Borden. There will be an exchange of gifts. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. F. D. Reed, Mrs. Alfred Gaffner and Miss Clara Dunham.

Loyalty Bible Class
The annual Christmas party preceded by a dinner was held by 43 members and guests of the Loyalty Bible Class of the Bethany Lutheran church on Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, at 6:15. Song, "O Little Town of Bethlehem"; Devotionals, Miss Alma Johnson; Mrs. William Dalton, president of the class, presided at the business meeting. The class decided to send gifts of money to Rev. and Mrs. Lundgren, a former pastor of the church, to the Salvation Army, and for the Bowery Missions. The class will take charge of the dinner to be served at the time of the meeting of the congregation the second Tuesday in January. Song by the Ladies' quartet; Poem by Mrs. Laurence Stoltz, and a reading by Mrs. Hans Pearson. This was followed by the exchange of gifts. Hostesses for the January meeting will be

Mrs. Carl Benson, Mrs. Joseph Benson, Mrs. Edith Cromwell and Mrs. Jennie Swanson.

Progressive Club
"Safety First in the Home" was the theme of the program given by Mrs. Leo Rossetti and Mrs. Charles McNeal at the meeting of the Progressive Woman's Club, at the home of Mrs. Clair Dahlgren, on Monday evening. The main item of business were plans made for the Christmas dance to be held December 9th at the High School gymnasium, with music by Orrie Beebe's Orchestra. Refreshments were served by Mrs. David Ritchie and Mrs. Emmett Henry.

Military Rites
Mrs. Helen Moran and daughter, Kathleen, were in Arlington, Va., last Friday to attend the military rites for their husband and father, Lt. James F. Moran, Jr., who was killed in Italy on July 22, 1944, and was buried temporarily at Vada, Italy. Accompanying Mrs.

Here And There

This And That: Arch Bristow, sage of Garland, always a welcome visitor, dropped into the office Wednesday afternoon, waxing enthusiastic over the success of the big stage show presented in the Garland community house last Thursday evening by the Grotto Minstrels, of Erie. Since Arch was probably mainly instrumental in bringing the attraction to the Brokenstraw "metropolis" he has every reason for feeling elated over the manner in which it was received. Without violating any secrets we venture to predict that other and just as entertaining attractions will be offered to folks down Garland way during the coming months. Medical science Tuesday lost a three and one-half month battle to save the life of two-year-old Sue Ann Morrison, Bradford, against the ravages of a rare kidney disease. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison, Sue Ann died of nephrosis in Children's Hospital, Buffalo. That shelter for the Salvation Army Christmas kettle equipped with a public speaker system, in front of the Warren National Bank is quite an improvement over the old days when the S. A. workers had to stand around in the cold jingling a bell. "The Warren Retailer," official bulletin of the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reveals that Harold Baker, who recently sold his dry cleaning business in Third avenue, to a couple of hustling ex-GI's from Jamestown, is now a traveling salesman. Two weeks before Christmas and with bright lights adorning the downtown intersections, carolers from the Young Women's Christian Association at Titonville, decided the season was here and were out singing carols Tuesday evening. Wherever they went they left a "check" for 1,038 wishes payable at the National Bank of Happiness, with the signature "281 Junior Members and 757 Adult Members." Warren County Girl Scout officials are already making plans for annual Twelfth Night Tree burning ceremonies at Beaty Field soon after the first of the year. Old Doc Stork is giving Kane the once over and making plans for one of the busiest December in history. The Kane Summit Hospital maternity section has been booked solid for the month—with one turn away. At the Community Hospital there are five reservations and many more to be booked as soon as Doc Stork and the Kane physicians can get together on the dates. Senator-Elect Margaret Chase Smith, of Maine, will be interviewed on the Times-Mirror sponsored Mutual Broadcast program Meet The Press, over Local Station WNAE-FM Friday evening at ten o'clock. Interviewers will be Ruth Montgomery and Warren Francis. With the arrival of the first calendars for 1949 we are reminded that there will be but one month in 1949 when the combination of Friday, the 13th, occurs, and that will be in May. Still hoping to enroll one or two Santa Claus helpers for local activities during the next two weeks.

Rare Entertainer For Men's Night At Woman's Club

Howard Higgins, member of the Society of American Magicians, who will headline the Men's Night entertainment at the Woman's Club on Saturday evening, first became interested in the methods of mediums and fortune tellers while doing research toward his doctorate in psychology.

He found that to investigate certain of their phenomena adequately he needed to be well grounded in magic, as well as in academic psychology, hence his study of magic.

Mr. Higgins received his bachelor of arts degree from DePauw University, his master of arts from State University of Iowa, and did his work toward his doctorate in the field of psychology at Boston University.

Before becoming dean of Emerson College, he was on the faculty at the University of Wyoming and of Miami University.

He is president of the National Lecture and Concert Management and a former president of the International Platform Association. He is also the author of "Influencing Behavior Through Speech" and "Speech Reports."

The program which he will present Saturday evening, termed "Among the Spirits," is a demonstration—lecture that explains and exposes the tricks used by mediums and fortune tellers.

SOCIETY

Altar Society Has Delightful Party

The annual Christmas party of St. Joseph's Altar Society was held last evening in the clubhouse, with a bountiful tureen dinner served at 6:30 o'clock and an attendance of 82 members and Father Arthur Leon, special guest.

The tables were beautifully decorated in Christmas array, with baskets of evergreens and red berries used as centerpieces and red tapers placed in wooden candlesticks which were decorated with evergreens and cones.

From the gaily decorated Christmas tree, each one was presented a gift by Santa Claus, impersonated by Father Leon.

Little Miss Roseanna Oberg, pupil of Richard Rapp, sang a number of songs in her usual pleasing manner and charmed her audience with her performance.

Group singing of familiar Christmas carols rounded out the program and much credit is due the committee in its arrangement of such a very enjoyable affair.

Serving on the committee were Mrs. Nell Eggleston, chairman; Mrs. Martha Bova, Mrs. Marie Peterson, Mrs. Frances Russo, Mrs. Angelina Tridico, Miss Tess Russo, Mrs. Margaret Bidwell, Mrs. Mary Corbran, Mrs. Ann Milako, Mrs. Ann Potch, Mrs. Mary Hillis, Mrs. Edith Scallise, Miss Mary Blocher, Mrs. Maxine Lytle, Mrs. Harriet Fleckenstein and Mrs. Jo Knoll.

Letters to the Editor

Warren, Dec. 8, 1948
Editor of Warren Times:

Fire Chief Albaugh warned today that flammable Christmas decorations introduce a needless fire hazard during the current holiday season, and asks local citizens to avoid the possibility of turning the cheerful Yuletide period into a time of grief and tragedy.

Many of the tragic holiday fires of the past were caused by the use of flammable decorations: Remember the one in St. Johns, Newfoundland, where ninety-nine people were killed at a Christmas party as a result of flammable decorations?

Non-flammable decorations of glass or metal are available and fire-proof snow should be used around the Christmas tree. It is dangerous to use paper or cotton in decorating the tree.

Decorations should never be used near chairs or other places where people may smoke, and plenty of ash trays should be placed around the house during the holiday season as always. It is preferable to put decorations up near the ceiling well above the head of any one standing up.

Candles should not be used as part of the Yuletide decorations. Curtains and other flammable materials should be pulled back at least six inches from any electric light. Stand your tree in water, when the needles begin to fall off, take it down. Remember it consists of pitch and resin and will burn like gasoline.

I emphasize that these simple precautions will help to prevent the tragedies which have marred previous holiday seasons.

C. A. Albaugh, Fire Chief.

Rodents form the largest order of mammals, embracing some 3,000 species.

New Phone Wires Strung On Cole Hill

Cole Hill, Dec. 8.—Bell Telephone Company employees of Warren were stringing wire on the new line from the highway to the fire tower the first of the week. The forestry department furnished the poles, which were set in September. It has been 22 years since the first line was built after the fire tower was erected in August, 1926.

Three well known aged men died in this section last week, Howard Holden, Clyde Croop and Dolph Crippen. Howard Holden was an old resident on Holden Hill for many years. Funeral rites were conducted in Tidioute Friday. Mr. Holden was once a school teacher of the Cole Hill school in his younger life.

Clyde Croop, of Newton, was a lifelong resident of this section, being employed by the New York Central railroad for many years with the section crew.

Dolph Crippen, of York Hill, died Sunday at the age of 85 years and was a lifelong resident of York Hill. Dolph's humorous personality won him many friends far and near.

The school children who attend Garland school are practicing for a Christmas program which will be a big event of the holiday season. The entertainment will be held in the Garland Community house at eight o'clock Wednesday evening, December 15th.

The second week of deer season finds but few hunters in the woods. Monday and Tuesday there were very few shots fired in the woods. Last week three nice bucks were killed by the six men of Pittsburgh occupying a hunting camp owned by Charles Camp.

Garden Club At Youngsville Has Holiday Meeting

Youngsville, Dec. 9—A delightful meeting of the Brokenstraw Garden Club was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Marie Kay, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDowell.

A delicious turkey dinner was enjoyed, with the Kay home beautifully decorated in holiday greens, sparkling lights and unusually attractive candle arrangements.

Carol singing between courses and at the close of dinner was under the leadership of H. H. Huston, with Mrs. Nellie Anderson at the piano.

A contest, which consisted of the drawing of designs to illustrate the names of songs, was enjoyed, with some of the illustrations being amusing as well as apt.

At the business session, with Mrs. James Hamilton presiding, roll call was answered by naming of favorite hymns and recital of Bible verses.

Programs for 1949 were given out, their attractive appearance being a credit to the committee. The little book has a poem, "Anticipation" at the beginning and closes with "The Flower Grower's 33rd Psalm" by Mary Dickerson Bangham.

The program also announced that the meeting for January 4 will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Streeter, with Mrs. Pearl Rapp as co-hostess, and roll call answered with the name of a favorite evergreen.

Mrs. Borton gave an interesting report of the very enjoyable meeting held at Sheffield, when the Garden Club of that place entertained clubs of the county.

E. C. Stillings gave a current events talk in which he considered conditions in China and Berlin. Roy MacDowell, "dirt farmer" of the club presented the members with floral calendars.

Guests who spoke briefly were Mrs. Goggin, Sugar Grove; Frank Black, who spent some time in California and gave some glimpses of that state, and Mrs. Engle. The Blacks expect to leave soon to motor to California.

Gifts were exchanged and a rising vote of thanks was given the hostesses and all who helped to make the party so successful.

Post Office To Remain Open Until Six P. M. Saturday

For the accommodation of those mailing out-of-state parcels and greeting cards the Warren Post Office will be open until six o'clock Saturday, December 11. Postmaster J. K. Bell warns that if patrons expect such gifts and greeting cards to be delivered before Christmas they should be in the mails not later than this coming Saturday.

With the normal mail volume at an all-time high, Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson today warned Christmas mailers that unless they mail their Christmas parcels at once and their Christmas cards well in advance of Christmas Week that they face the likelihood of not having them delivered until after Christmas.

Directing the attention of Christmas mailers to the fact that normal mail volume in the last several months has daily reached the proportions of the peak of the Christmas period a year ago, the Postmaster General said that this year's Christmas mail, added to the present everyday volume, has created the most acute mail congestion and transportation problem in the entire history of the Postal Service.

Only by the immediate mailing of Christmas parcels, Mr. Donaldson said, can the senders be assured that their gifts will arrive prior to Christmas and thereby be in keeping with the spirit of the holiday season.

The Post Office Department, Mr. Donaldson pointed out, has been making preparations for this year's anticipated record Christmas mailings since early last spring. He added, however, that only by the wholehearted cooperation of the mailing public with this urgent mail early plea of the Postal Service will it be possible to handle this year's unprecedented holiday mailings on time.

While every available means of transportation and extra facilities have been pressed into service, together with the employment of approximately 300,000 temporary employees during the holiday period, Mr. Donaldson emphasized that much of this advance preparation will have been in vain if the mailing public fails to place their Christmas parcels in the mails at once.

Mr. Donaldson said that the Post Office department is relying on the mailing public to do its full part in cooperating in this year's holiday mail problem, the greatest ever to confront the Postal Service.

Economic Experts Declare We Seem To Be Doing Better

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(AP)—President Truman has the word of his three economic experts that we seem to be doing a little better.
They told him yesterday some prices are "dattening out" a bit and don't seem to be "jumping through the ceiling."
But who are the experts? How'd they get that way? And how do they know how we're doing?
These three men, with long and wide experience in economics, make up the President's council of economic advisers:

Edwin G. Nourse, 65-year-old chairman of the council; Leon H. Keyserling, 49; and John D. Clark, 64.
Like three doctors, they're getting paid—$15,000 a year each—to diagnose the nation's economic ills and fever.
If medicine is needed, like price control or higher taxes or less government spending, they're supposed to know and tell Mr. Truman.

While he doesn't have to take their advice, you can be sure he does, in big part. His cabinet members can pour their ideas into his ear, too.
Mr. Truman asked Nourse a week ago to work with his cabinet in drawing up an anti-inflation program to offer Congress.
But no one in the government has as much all-around information as these three advisers, nor as much chance to gather it.
All three have been up to their necks in economics for years. Keyserling and Clark, besides being economists, are lawyers, too. Clark was also in business and banking. All have taught economics.

Nourse began his teaching back in 1909. He's written books on his specialty. He's one of the country's best-known economists.
Keyserling, after teaching briefly in the early 1930's, came to Washington with the New Deal in 1933. He's done jobs in economics for the government ever since.
Clark started in business in 1907, became a director of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana in 1923, and didn't start teaching until 1931.
How'd they come to get their jobs? Mr. Truman picked them in 1946 when the council was created by Congress to advise the President.

How do they do their jobs? How do they know how the country is doing and where it's going? There are a number of answers.
For one thing, there's the long experience they've had in economics. They keep abreast of what's said and written in the field.
They have a staff of about 20 experts, all trained economists, to help them. One is an expert on prices, another on building, another on international economics and so on.
The three-man council can draw, and does, on the vast sum of economic information gathered by the government departments, each of which is a storehouse of facts in its own field.

Walcott Has His Say About Challengers

Camden, N. J., Dec. 8—Jersey Joe Walcott popped up with his idea today about an elimination series to pick a worthy challenger for Joe Louis.

The 34-year-old South Jersey fighter, sneering at the current crop of heavyweights, suggested at anybody who wants to fight him for the championship should live to beat Walcott first.

"I'm the most convenient guy in the world to forget," Walcott complained.

Jersey Joe, father of six, fought his first time, losing a split decision at Madison Square Garden. He got knocked out in the 11th round of a return match.

Ranked as the leading contender, Walcott said the leading challenger of Louis now are Gus Lesnevich, Billy Conn, Joe Baksi, Lee Savold and Ezzard Charles.

Walcott laughed off all five as worthy challengers for the Brown Bomber. Then, a minute later, he admitted that he didn't look so good in his rematch with Louis.

"But," said Jersey Joe, "Louis wasn't so fancy either."

Walcott—born Arnold Cream, Jr.—is in training for an active campaign in the near future. His first opponent will be Earl Griffin of Chester, Pa., in an exhibition at the Camden Armory next Tuesday night.

LOUIS AND CONN ARE AWAITING THE GONG

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Both Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, and Billy Conn, the Pittsburgh Irishman, have finished training for their six-round exhibition bout tomorrow night in the International Amphitheater.

Louis said he'll weigh 220 when the fighters step on the scales in the Illinois Athletic Commission offices tomorrow. That's just five pounds over his weight for his last title defense, against Jersey Joe Walcott, whom he kayoed.

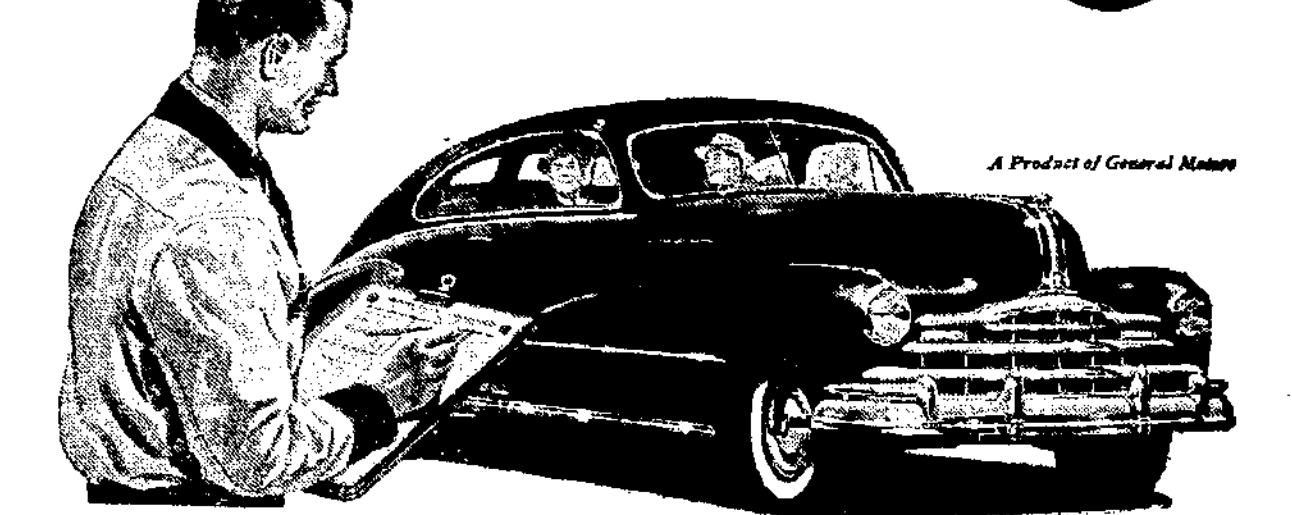

Conn said he expects to weigh 189, or seven pounds over his top fighting weight.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1928
The town clock in front of the First National Bank, which had been in service for more than 20 years, was being replaced by a new model clock. Shoppers had a big night on Liberty street, what with J. A. Johnson opening his new store, the Grand Union grocery store opening its doors for the first time, and Toyland opening up at the Ray Chain Store. The Rev. Carl H. Peterson, of Cook, Minn., accepted a call to become pastor of the Swedish Congregational church here. Miss Hazel Ferguson, who formerly was at the McGarry Barber Shop, announced she had accepted a new position at the Master Hair Shoppe in the Conservatory building. Street car traffic was tied up for some time at North Warren when an autoist attempted to drive his car along the street car tracks. The driver, who gave a Kane address, said he consumed two bottles of ale and some whiskey at several stops en route to Warren from Jamestown. Warren High school opened the basketball season with a 25-9 win over Ludlow. Fritz Mack paced the winners with 14 points.

In 1938
A large number of Warren residents were registered at the University of Pittsburgh, including Margaret H. Allen, Samuel F. Bonavita, William G. DeForest, John P. Fanaritis, Julius A. Fino, Richard A. Gilson, William F. Lohmes, Raymond E. Lowe, Charles W. Lyon, William T. McCausland, William R. Morse, Jane J. Neal, Jean E. Punskey, Donald J. Smith, Joseph V. Viola and William L. Confer. H. W. Walchli, of Clarendon, was reelected president of the Warren County Board of School Directors. Other officers named were Mrs. T. C. Hawkey of Tidoute, vice president; Mrs. Allene Briggs of Sugar Grove, secretary; and C. V. Pierce, Eldred, treasurer. Fire destroyed the Percy Jordan home at Weidmant. Showing at the Library theater was the picture, "The Shining Hour", starring Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young, Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bainter. The Columbia had a double bill, "Arrest Bulldog Drummond" and "Where the Buffalo Roam." The Kiwanis Club, the Warren high school student council and the Warren firemen were collecting and reconditioning toys for needy youngsters in the borough.

MRS. MAX JACOBS
Mrs. Bella M. Jacobs, widow of Max Jacobs, former well known City clothier, passed away at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday at her home, 21 Pease avenue, City.

Although she had not been in good health for several weeks, her death was a distinct shock to her family.

She was the daughter of the late Isaac and Leblina Metzgar of Titusville and was educated in the public schools there.

Her marriage to Max Jacobs took place in Temple B'Nai Zion, Titusville. Mr. Jacobs passed away suddenly in November, 1944. Mrs. Jacobs continued to carry on operations of the Max Jacobs store established by her husband.

Mrs. Jacobs was a gifted amateur artist in painting and maintained a beautiful flower garden at her home. She was an active member in numerous charitable affiliations.

MRS. ELISE GOSSART
Word is received from Hazelhurst that services will be held in the family home at 1:30 p. m. Friday for Mrs. Elise Gossart, aged 79 and resident of that community for the past 35 years. Mrs. Gossart, mother of Mrs. E. S. Bills, of Sheffield, died Tuesday evening at the home of another daughter, Mrs. James T. Comors, in Bradford, where she was visiting when she succumbed to a heart attack. Interment will be made in Mt. Nebo cemetery at Mt. Jewett.

COSTLY CAR ACCIDENT
Bob R. Dixon, 25, of 609 Main street, Youngsville, had a lucky escape from injury when his 1941 Tudor automobile was virtually demolished in an accident this morning at 3:50 o'clock on Route 6 west of Warren, near the Irvine overhead. Pennsylvania State Police said Dixon was proceeding toward Youngsville when his car ran off the highway on a curve, struck a concrete abutment and rolled over several times. Damage to the car was estimated at $1200.

IS DOING NICELY
Friends will be glad to know that Frank M. Morrison, of Jones, who was severely burned about the face and hands on November 26, is getting along nicely. However, he must still go daily for dressing of his injuries and will not be returning to work for some time. Much credit is given to the hospital and the department for the fine job in keeping tanks cool after the fire was put out at the South Penn oil plant, where the accident occurred.
